At the Academy of Music in the after and at the First Presbyteriar Church in the morning and at night the formerly pastor of the Second Presby terian Church in this city, preached to large audiences. As was to be expected from Dr. Guthrie, the sermons were strong and able and created a profound impression. The service in the afternoon was held under the auspices of the Y.

Dr. Guthrie has consented to deliver the anniversary address before the Bible Society of Virginia at its annual meeting

The Rev. George H. Spooner preached Bunday night at Trinity Methodist Church on "The Open Saloon—the Nation's Curse"

en "The Open Saleen—the Nation's Cursa."

Mr. Spooner went vigorously after the saleens, and declared it was the duty of the church to pray and work at all times for the suppression of the liquer traffic. As for the dispensary bill now pending in the General Assembly, Mr. Spooner said he wanted none of it. He desired no part in "making respectable any such business by having the State go into partnership with the liquer traffic. What right has the State to debauch manhood and womanhood?" asked the speaker. Respectability for the liquer traffic! What mockery! A saleen is a saleen, whether in a gilded palace or a low dive. No dispensaries for, the church of God. If a man has to be bitten by a mad deg and die from hydrophobia, what difference dees it make to him whether the dog is a ligh-bred setter or a low-bred cur?

The Rev. I. S. Boyles, of the Randolph-

The Rev. I. S. Boyles, of the Randolph-Street Baptist Church, on Sunday eve-ning preached from the distinctly unique subject, "Dirt, Debt and Devil," The chiefly interesting things in Mr. Boyles' sermon was a diatribe against the theatres. Said the paster of Randolph-Street;

Reyies' sermon was a diatribe against the theatres. Said the paster of Randolph-Street:

"Take the second word, 'sensual.' Man has five senses—sight, smell taste, hear, feel. The abuse of these suses is sinful, and their misapplication is wicked. We are commanded 'to taste not and handle not the unclean thing.' ... 'Ant we see makes a deeper impression on us than what we hear. There are some things that men must not see if they would keep the soul on top of the body. Many displays of the theatrical pictures in Richmond constantly and attractively exposed to the view of young men and boys are a disgrace to civilization. It is 'earthly, sensual and devellish.' and ought not to be allowed by the city ordinance. With all the carnestness of my soul I protest against such obscene isplays and exhibitions of these vagar pictures. It is a temptation to men, and if these pictures are wrong, what must the reality be?

"I have no sort of sympathy or patience with any preacher who winks at theatre-going. There may be some moral plays, but there is not a moral theatre in the world. Every theatre is detrimental to good morals and religion. I cannot attend the theatre without linking myself with an evil institution. If all preachers would speak out on this ques-cannot attend the theatre without linking myself with an evil institution. If all preachers would speak out on this question and all other questions that are earthly, sensual and devilish, it would help men wonderfully to make a vital discrimination between right and wrong.

"The church is full of spiritual bables demanding, the minister to keep them nourished on sugar rugs and the milk of the word when they ought to be feeding on strong meat. They ought to know the fundamentals of religion, and ought to be out teaching others and striving to save this lost world. Away with this soap-bubble nonsense that the church must run the theatre, the saloon and other 'earthly, sensual and devilish' institutions that simply please and gratify the fleshly senses and are all the time dulling and weakening and destroying spiritual sensibilities and threatening the foundation of the caurch."

Whist parties and punch bowls also came in for some hard knocks Sunday. At the Leigh-Street Baptist Church Sunfay morning the Rev. Dr. John William Jones said the grand jury of the cuty, if it did its full duty, would indict every persons who engaged in that species of gambling known as whist parties. The punch bowl, he said, is entirely too much in evidence in the community.

At Union-Station Methodist Church the Rev. R. M. Maxey, of Asbury, preached Sunday morning on "Recogni-tion in Heaven," the subject which re-cently engaged the attention of the Mtheodist Ministers' Conference, Mr. Maxey took the ground that in heaven there will be no recognition of earthly relations.

RYAN ARRESTED ON

Shall They Be Allowed Any City Conveniences?

THE MATTER IS DISCUSSED

Animated Debate Over a Request from a Henrico County Man, Which is Finally Referred for Set-Ilement.

Action taken yesterday afternoon by Action taken yesterday afternoon by the Street Committee, in session at the City Hall, looks much as if it will result in the denial to residents in the outlying sections of certain long-standing privileges in reference to connection with city stowers and so on. While no direct decision to that effect was made, those fighting against the continuance of the practice succeeded by a good majority in hoving the request, made the incident for the discussion, referred to a special committee of three members.

The matter came up in connection with an ordinance referred to the committee by the Common Council, premitting Mr. J. A. Heisler, No. 2311 Grove Avenue, a resident of Henrico county, to have the privilege of using the city sewer. One side of Grove Avenue, it will be recalled, is in the city, and the other is not. Mr. Heisler lives on the county side.

HENIRCO PETITION.

Mr. Minor at once arose to discuss the ordinance. He said he had a petition from a number of Henrico people who wanted the same privilege, and he wished the committee would decide once for all what it would do. He referred to the annexation fight now up in the Legislature. The cities were trying to stretch out and the Street Committee, in session at the

The counties were fighting the proposition and wished to have the question submitted to the people in the section to be annexed before it could be decided. If the committee allowed residents of the county to enjoy city privileges, they would never make any active effort to get into the city. While they might not oppose it, they, enjoying the privileges already, would certainly not be sufficiently interested to go out and at the voting places exert their influence in favor of annexation.

the recipients of coupons on which they could inscribe their name and suggest some suitable name for the little stranger from Africa, who is at present nameless, has begun to have effect already, and by every mail numbers of cards are brought on which many various names have already been inscribed.

While the box that is located at the entrance of the building is being well attended to at each and every performance by the visitors, who may be seen in various portions of the building directly after the gorilla has been exhibited, conferring with one another and writing names on their cards that they think may be most suitable for the baby gorilla, that desired by Mr. Helsler. They were all willing to pay the difference in the

MAJOR ALLEN'S VIEWS.

In the opinion of Chairman Allen the residents in the outskirts would never come into the city if they enjoyed all the facilities already. He was in doubt if it was really a health measure as Mr Whitlock said. The practice had begun with Grove Road and was spreading to Floyd Avenue, as evidenced by Mr. West's petition. It would go on spreading, and the committee could not deny people in Barton Heights and Fairmount and favor those on Grove Road. Major Allen did not think the committee had a right to build sewers at the expense of the city, and then allow outsiders to use them.

Mr. Peters declared that the matter was a vital one in its importance, and that it was time for the committee to put its foot down on the practice of permitting privileges of his sort to non-residents—at least until it was known what we the issue in the annexation fight now pending in the Legislature. He offered a substitute providing that the request of well. tute, providing that the request of Mr Heisler be referred to a special committee

After some discussion the substitute was adopted as follows: Ayes-Adams, Allen, Burton, Mann, Minor, Peters, West and Williams-8. Noes-Bahen. Phillips, Teefey, Whittet and Otway S. Allen-5. Chairman Allen said he voted against the substitute because he wanted the thing stopped "then and there."

The committee was then appointed as follows: Messrs. Peters, Mann and Whittet.

WILL RETURN THE LOT.

The opinion of the City Attorney and a communication from the Common Council with reference to the best means of reopening and regrading Clay Street from Bowe Street to Lombardy were laid on the table.

To see Company, which announced its intention of operating a big plant. The plans of the company didn't materialize and a movement was made to get the street back again. While the opinion of the City Attorney is to the contrary, it is held by many members that the only thing the city can do is to condemn the property and buy it in.

Chairman Aften relieved the situation last night. He said he had received assurances from the gentlemen of the company that the property would be returned to the city. They asked for a few weeks longer, however. All has not been decided about the plant, and it is just possible that it will be built yet. If it is not, however, the city will have no trouble about reopening the street. In view of the statement of Major Allen, the committee laid the matter on the table.

A delegation from the Master Plumbers A delegation from the Master Plumbers' Association appeared before the committee in behalf of an ordinance providing that in making sewer connections the plumbers be permitted to keep within the property lines. This would give the city control of its streets. The matter was referred to a committee, composed of Messrs. Peters, Minor and Phillips, with instructions to report at the next meeting, which it was decided, under suspension of the rules, to hold on February 27th, instead of the 2sth.
